

March 10, 2017

Washington, DC. The National Architectural Accrediting Board® (NAAB), Inc. met on February 24-25, 2017 and approved two new policies related to the pool of prospective visiting team members.

t. 202.783.2007

The first outlines the steps to be taken if an individual withdraws from a team after he/she has been approved by the program.

f. 202.783.2822

The second provides guidelines for the tenure of individuals once they are nominated into the team member pool.

e. info@naab.org

Both of these policies go into effect immediately. They will be incorporated into the next edition of The NAAB Procedures for Accreditation.

w. naab.org

The new policy on last-minute withdrawals is here.

The new policy on tenure in the team pool is here.

Vision: The NAAB aspires to be the leader in establishing educational quality assurance standards to enhance the value, relevance, and effectiveness of the architectural profession.

Mission: The NAAB develops and maintains a system of accreditation in professional architecture education that is responsive to the needs of society and allows institutions with varying resources and circumstances to evolve according to their individual needs.